Reflections

Becoming An Extraordinary Person

Rev. LeRoy Zemke, Pastor

When I consider Your heavens, the work of Your fingers, the moon and the stars, which You have ordained,

What is man that You are mindful of him, and the son of man that You visit him?

Psalm 8 v. 3,4

In our western culture, there are an unimaginable number of practical programs in business as well as enormous amounts of money spent to become successful and, hopefully, fulfilled. The language we use is metaphorical such as “dare to dream”, “achieve a lifelong goal or ambition”, “travel to far away places”, “marry the man/woman of our soul’s yearning”, “live a life of service for others”, “become famous” or “become your best person”. These ideas, essentially in effect support the implication of becoming an extraordinary person, so that all these potential possibilities can be attained, achieved or accomplished.

The question I might pose in consideration of these possible goals is this: “Do these pursuits lead to fulfillment, the often illusive experience of happiness and whatever is meant by “an extraordinary person”?”

In a deep spiritual sense, each of us is a spark of the Sacred Flame of the Infinite Divine Fire of All Creation. This spark is carried in the heart, sometimes referred to as our innermost spiritual heart, our heart of hearts. As we incarnate, we take on the expression of an individual lifetime, we slowly, step by step, develop the wide range of talents, abilities, physical, mental, emotional and spiritual that are part of this innate self. Our biology (heritage, genetics and DNA) define our body, our temperament and our many powerful urges. Correspondingly, society, culture, religion, family and education (in all of its varied and many forms) shape our attitudes, beliefs and viewpoints.

However, as incredibly rich a tapestry as the above may paint, it is an unbelievably tiny picture of who we are.

Many of the inspired leaders in science, psychology, business and the profound spiritual teachings across the centuries, (attributed to Jesus the Christ, Gautama Buddha, Patanjali and a host of others) have revealed we are children of an Almighty Omnipresent God. The greatness that lives within us is beyond imagination, beyond definition, beyond measurement. “When you are inspired by some great purpose, some extraordinary project, all your thoughts break their bonds: Your mind transcends limitations, your consciousness expands in every direction, and you find yourself in a new, great and wonderful world. Dormant forces, faculties and talents become alive, and you discover yourself to be a greater person by far than you ever dreamed yourself to be.”

— Patañjali

What then are some of the many steps of the process of becoming an extraordinary person? Allow me to suggest some very abbreviated points that may help to reveal something of our essential nature that lead us deeper into our experience of the extraordinary.

1. Nearly every major religions spiritual teaching encourages us to become reflective about our lives. This means to stop doing ... and allow time and a place to become inner directed ... a simple day off from chores, duties and commitments where we can think (or not think). It’s a retreat from engaging in responsibilities and an allowing of ourselves to rest, (if needed) renew and genuinely relax. It’s not about doing, such as exercise or going to a gym or spa, or fasting for health purposes. It is about being quiet, turning off our incessant connection to the media and in a very real sense the outer world, to “what’s happening” and just being with ourselves.

It’s a huge step. One day may reveal to us that we need a second day, a third day and possibly even more. It is about a discovery that helps to define our inner world more clearly and to begin to change where our focus in life may be off, not fulfilling and not leading us in the direction of happiness or the oft sought soul fulfillment.

2. Declutter, release, let go of all that is done, finished and completed. A storage unit of collections, unopened boxes of our earthly stuff may need to be given to a local charity. How about books we buy and never read? Cd's we have acquired and have found valuable but now we are finished with and moved on from the material? Music videos and all and every kind of electronic material that's no longer a part of our enjoyment. While these areas represent only a tiny fraction of our life interests and involvements, the big question to ask might be how does it serve me now? Do I still use, need or find purpose for it in my on-going experience?

The fine art of release has gifts to offer and until we actually do the work of release, we will never know the power it unleashes once we are free to move on. Memorabilia reminds us of treasured memories and moments we can enjoy over and over and over. But unless we are really open to our own inner nature to receive it's connection to the sacred which surrounds us everywhere, we remain static and often stuck to what was, what used to be and why it was important to us. It's a powerful force that pulls us to our past and all of our attachments. Releasing frees us to gently move on to be aware of what awaits us.

3. Claiming our uniqueness in life's unfolding rhythm. The ubiquitous news of the media clutters our daily world and informs us of what it deems valuable. What is the "news" of our inner world? Do we seek yet to discover another story to tell/write? Another romance to experience? A new culture to learn about? Do we yearn to learn a new language, visit a land populated with people and a culture that is completely unknown to us? Pause ... to answer such questions ...

Uniqueness can be thought of as the ownership of our very own soul, not just our likes, dislikes, our favorite foods, fashions or friendships. It's the exploration of our spirit in study, in meditation, in research, time spent with art, perhaps music, theatre or politics, efforts to be involved in service to life and thus to stretch into the unknown boundaries we have placed upon our lives. Our very own soul has a song to sing, a vision to live into and thus a revelation to bring to the world, our very personal world and the world in which we live.

4. Purpose, purpose, purpose ... what is the meaning of a deep inner purpose? Is it karma or dharma? Karma essentially can be referred to as unfinished internal work such as learning how to deeply be self reliant or unconditional in our life journey. Dharma is perhaps what very subtly calls to us to accomplish, or learn, or do or become in the world of flesh form.

We may hear an orator speak about his life experience and recognize that the theme of his life is very similar to ours and that we might find a way to share our own message, as writer, speaker, educator, business person, artist, etc.

Purpose is less about finding value in our lives through the guise of being male/female/transgender or whatever next term may be uncovered. It is about being honorable, truthful, living from integrity, being able to be the best man/woman we can be. I tend to believe that it's not about fame or becoming known as a leader, teacher, priest or healer. It is more about being better than we were yesteryear, yesterday or before. We are a better person now, at this moment in our lives than we were last month or last year.

Extraordinary - in a more spiritual sense is deeply about our talents, our skills, our abilities and how we are able to use them daily, weekly, within our lives. Being extraordinary is not about striving to be a better parent, partner, brother, sister, friend or leader, to always push toward excellence. It is about being present in our life to show up strong, steady, truthful, respectful toward ourselves as well as toward all of the people who are a part of our lives...wherever we are in the world.

When others make mistakes or whatever such actions may be called earning a "mistake" label, do we rush in to support or to judge and join a chorus of naysayers? When a loved one fails again to pass a test, or loses a job or condemns us for a stand we take on a moral, legal, political or spiritual issue are we able to be caring, loving or unconditional and thus be part of a solution rather than a shrill voice so frustrated that we leash pain and judgment upon the other?

For each of us, becoming is an active verb. It is not a finished act. In a spiritual sense, I believe it is an unfolding. The world of nature often has apt metaphors for consideration. As we watch a fruit tree form new twigs and branches that promise to form buds, flower and bear fruit, we must be patient to observe the process, week by week and month by month. The right combination of nutrient, heat, light, cold or chill is necessary for the fruit to be fully available. It can be rushed yes, in greenhouses, in special environments, of course. But, as we have discovered, or rediscovered food that is organic may be safer for the body and our human form ...than that which is “forced” into ripeness to meet a societal or seasonal or communal demand.

Finally, humans are not to be compared to plants. Plants have their evolutionary journey. We as humans have ours. Our learning of our inner and outer work in the world is a discovery, an unfolding. It has its own rhythm, its own pattern. While we may desire to be like Shakespeare, or Mother Teresa of Calcutta, or Martin Luther King in America, our deeper work is to fulfil our soul’s yearning right where we are.

It is the song of our soul, the expression of our innate nobility as we express who we are, one step, one experience after another.

Ministry Team

The Ministry Team of the Temple has a three fold mission purpose.

- To assist both Rev. Zemke and Rev. Lusic in the implementing of the major programs and events of the church every month.
- To provide ready and willing support “hands on” leadership, and occasional assistance with the Sunday Services and/or special events.
- To be “listening” professionals. This will offer counsel and care to the entire membership and staff as may be needed.

The members of the team are Rev. Annette Mason, Rev. Betty Pressly and Rev. Gloria Standish.

The team meets once a month and/or more as may be necessary with Marie Neuberger as Administrative Assistant.

Rooms of Our Lives

Madeline Ann Diemer

Saturday March 4, 10:30-3:30

$45.00

Bring a Bag Lunch

Rooms of Our Lives reveals where our heart is and how we are building our spiritual vibration. Think of each department in our life as a room. The rooms we spend the most time in show us where our focus is and shapes our priorities and perceptions.

Working with rooms helps us to see where we may be troubled and need to work on rebuilding, repair, maintain, or restore that department of our life to bring inner peace. Whether we are seeking to improve health, augment wealth, deepen inspiration, or multiply love, the principle is the same. In this workshop we will learn how to create those changes and feel pleasure as the new outer condition will mirror the new inner vibration.

Remember that all changes must originate from within, so if there is something we don't like, we can remove it...clean that room, transform it with the help of Spirit and this can be done instantly!

Join Madeline and your angel guides, for a day of self-discovery and uncover the rich treasures of our household, our personal consciousness. There are always ways to improve, justify, validate and heal our lives. This gives us the opportunity to gather insights from our guides, angels, and loved ones from the other side.

The day will include:

- Instructions and discussion on how to use our Inner Rooms
- Meditation
- Ways to improve our psychic ability

This seminar will be facilitated by Madeline Ann Diemer

Bio: Rev. Madeline Ann Diemer, MA, teaches in Tampa as a professor of psychology. She is the author of Enjoying Your Emotions and Mastery Over Mansions.

As an intuitive, she gives readings and hosts classes. Madeline forms prayer groups (one is 21 years old) and has provided space for Native American prayer lodges on the grounds of her home. As a facilitator, she worked with Dr. Raymond Moody, training people to utilize the Psychomanteum, as described in his book Reunions. Rev. Diemer served as one of the pastors of the Spiritual Center and returns to the Temple of the Living God to teach again after many years.

Holy Kabbalah - Using the Thirty-two Paths of Wisdom

Emphasis on The Hebrew Alphabet
as it relates on each path

Instructor Rev. Betty Pressly

7 Thursdays March 9-April 20

11:00 am– 1:00 pm

$70.00 or can be made in two payments

The Kabbalah is the study of ancient wisdom relating to creation, spirituality and helping to answer the question, “Who are we?” The study is based on a diagram termed “The Tree of Life”, consisting of Ten centers or spheres called Sefirot and 22 paths connecting the Sefirot. Both Paths and Centers are closely related and dependent upon each other. Each Path connects one Sefira with another Sefira, joining the power of both and transmitting the force of both across the joining Path.

The class will concentrate on:

1. Each of the Ten Sefirot - its name, meaning, power and placement on the Tree
2. The 22 letters of the Hebrew alphabet and how they relate power and force of the path
3. Learn how the “72 Names of God” (by Yehuda Berg) formed by the 22 letters of the Hebrew Alphabet can help make changes in your life. (taken from Exodus 14 chap. 19, 20 and 21).
4. Focus on opening the heart center with practice, prayer and concentration

REMEMBERING

M. Douglas Wilson

March 11, 1923 - February 24, 2008

A Man For All Seasons

As we gaze back across the past 9 years, we recall the love, the deep quiet intensity, the complete dedication, the penetrating insights, commitment and involvement that Douglas brought to the Temple and its entire ministry.

His infectious laugh, radiant consciousness and extraordinary vision lingers gently upon the heart strings ...of all who were blessed to know him.

Rev. Wilson touched lives, children, young people, adults alike. He loved the little ones profoundly, newly born and just beginning their earthly sojourn. And he loved the church.

As many will recall, he had a transformative healing touch (he actually was II Degree Reiki trained), and an artists soul (sang, danced, directed live theater on both coasts of America. We recall his love of Reader's Theatre here at Temple for Christmas and Easter every year for some 51 years...

Rev. Wilson came to St. Petersburg at the invitation of Rev. Zemke in July 1966. He joined the church in October of 1966 and was ordained in 1980. He was involved in nearly every single aspect of the ministry, including the earliest creative installation of our bookstore, originally named the Book Nook. He helped to design and create the original Psychic Showcase and saw its successful development across the years. As Assistant Pastor he held that position from October 4, 1982 until his retirement on October 2, 1993. He often spoke of his deep fulfillment within the heart of the ministry. His greatest satisfaction came from serving people through healing conversation, prayer or loving support.

His creative hand in coordinating the Temple Monthly News Bulletin is still missed. We warmly remember him assisting in the sound booth each week and volunteering wherever or whenever his skills were needed.

Across the years of his lifetime, he became known for his closing signature Mizpah - Genesis 31:49
"The Lord watch between you and me when we are absent one from another."

In honor of Rev. Wilson's March 11 birthday we warmly welcome your loving donation toward the M. Douglas Wilson Scholarship Fund.

Law of One

$20 includes both classes

This quote describes the Law of One:

“Consider, if you will, that the universe is infinite. This has yet to be proven or disproven, but we can assure you that there is no end to yourselves, your understanding, what you would call your journey of seeking, or your perceptions of the creation.

That which is infinite cannot be many, for many-ness is a finite concept.... In an infinite Creator there is only unity....In truth there is no right or wrong...

You are everything, every being, every emotion, every event, every situation. You are unity. You are infinity. You are love/light, light/love. You are. This is the Law of One.”

In two sessions we will explore spiritual growth channeled in Book 1 of “The Law of One..

This includes information about the pyramids, the presence of alien beings on earth, healing with crystals, telepathic communication, Atlantis, Venus, Mars, the origin of human civilization, and more.

Attendees may order Book 1 or the five volume series comprising The Law of One from Miracles Book Store, or it may be downloaded for free online.

What Our Hands Reveal The Basics of Palmistry

8 weeks - starting Thursday
April 27

7-9 p.m. $80.00

Instructor Rev. Annette Mason

(can be paid in 2 parts or see teacher for other arrangements. Scholarships also available and must be applied for 2 weeks in advance.)

Bring a copy of both hands with you to the first class. We will begin right away to ‘read’ what they reveal about us.

The non-dominant hand shows the personality and our natural aptitudes we had at birth. The dominant hand shows what we’ve actually made of this life and what is most likely to occur in the future.

Comparing the two is one of the most fascinating aspects of palmistry because it shows us how we deal with change and life’s events.

Palmistry can answer the following questions and more:

Are we likely to be lucky in love?

Will we be financially successful?

Are we a born artist,
realist, leader, dreamer?

Available from Miracles Bookstore

Annette Mason, a former public school educator and consultant, and has lived and worked in both Atlanta, Georgia and Paris, France. Her metaphysical, spiritual studies began in the early 80’s with the study of palmistry among them. Annette finds palmistry to be a fascinating subject and something anyone can enjoy using anytime, anywhere. A Reiki Master for more than 26 years, Rev. Mason has served as a teacher, reader and healer at the Temple from 2004 - 2014 as Assistant Pastor

How to use a Pendulum

A Pendulum is quite simply a tool that is used to check what the subconscious already knows. When you ask a question of the pendulum, it is your own intuition that answers it. The pendulum merely allows you to physically see what your intuition knows. In this class we will explore the many ways one can use a pendulum and how to get accurate answers! You can purchase a Pendulum in the Bookstore! Presented by Machael Carlson Suggested Love Donation $15.00

Yoga Fundamentals!

Yoga is for everyone! Whether your tall, short, round, thin, male, female or transgender, yoga has the potential of being very beneficial for your life. Often, when people think of yoga they imagine lean and slender persons contorting their bodies into positions that look painful, and even disturbing. It's sad to think that many people miss out on yoga simply because they have been led to believe it is not for them. Yoga is for all of us! In this class, Dr. Ronald K. Porter will lead us in an exploration of the basic philosophy and fundamental poses of yoga. Please bring a mat if you have one. Suggested Love Donation: $15.00

A former USF grad, educator and long-time Theosophical Society Past Secretary, she occasionally teaches classes in Astrology, Wiccan, Lenormand and Tarot cards. Chakra Balancing: Yoga to Balance the Mind, Body, & Spirit

The chakras are known as wheels of spinning energy found in the body. Usually, energy has the ability to flow through us with ease. Disturbing situations in life can often leave our energy blocked and unable to flow freely. Working with the chakras through yoga is a means of restoring a healthy flow of the subtle energetic body, bringing balance to the physical body. Join Dr. Ronald K. Porter in a workshop that explores both the meaning of the chakras and subtle energetic body, and engages participants in a yoga practice focused on the chakras. Please bring a mat if you have one. Suggested Love Donation: $15.00

Toning Your Tax Blues Away

Toning is the universal language of sound. Sound is the original mystical experience of creation. The act of toning is the letting out of nonverbal sound as a release to create balance and harmony within self. It is achieved through the elongation of a note or tone, using breath and voice. It encourages the full spectrum of your energy field, helping to release old patterns of physical, emotional and mental limitations, allowing you to live your divine purpose more fully. The vibration of the human voice is considered the most powerful healing force of all. Come join Robin Hill, Sound Healer, Reiki Master and Color Balancer, as she teaches you the power of your voice!
