Reflections “Claiming Abundance”

“Beloved, I wish above all things that you mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.”
3 John 2

Abundance! The very word suggests images of that which is full, rich and unlimited. The American College Dictionary defines it as an “overflowing fullness, quantity or supply.” It also means “to rise up in waves.” So, it can also suggest our good coming toward us, much as the ocean waves keep emerging relentlessly and without cease upon the shores.

What follows are some significant guidelines for consideration for anyone who seeks to develop a deepening awareness and understanding of the ideas and concepts, steps and procedures that can prove useful in claiming one’s abundance.

1. Divine Mind is the One and only Reality. Charles Filmore, founder of Unity, claimed this truth over 100 years ago. Today that spiritual movement has encircled the globe and this truth is taught and practiced worldwide. First, all substance, tangible and intangible, seen and unseen, is contained in the concept of Divine Mind. Therefore, all that we see in form, or all that we can think about already exists Divine Mind or God. God is substance and may be conceived of as energy, or Spirit, and lies back of matter and form. It is the basis of all form, yet does not enter into any form as a finality. This spiritual substance cannot be seen, touched, tasted or smelled. Yet it is more substantial than matter or physical form itself.

2. Substance is first given form in the mind! Then as it passes, gradually, through several stages, it becomes manifest in our lives. Here we must make our decree. “Thou shalt decree a thing and it shall be established unto thee.” (Job 22:28) We are always decreeing, sometimes consciously, oftentimes unconsciously, and with every thought and word we are increasing or diminishing the threefold activity of substance; (a) stillness or being centered, (b) clarity of decree, and (c) thankfulness for the demonstration. We cannot rush this process. Here we make our desires know to God. Flimsy-feathery ideas, halfhearted hopes or wishes, poorly defined requests, too many and confusing images, and/or unresolved inner or personal conflicts will very effectively dissipate, block, or negate the whole process. If we do not clearly know what it is we want, if we do not believe that what we ask for is possible for us to have, negatively we imprint upon the invisible God Substance the good we desire to bring into manifestation. What we will perpetuate is confusion in our lives! There is an expression associated with the use of computers, “Garbage in, garbage out!”

3. Dare to give up limitation. Give up Debts. Let go of lack! In the Lord’s Prayer we read and say, “Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.” Here Jesus illustrated a most significant law of mind. If we have any thought that someone has wronged us, we block the cleansing and healing power of the spirit. If we are holding onto circumstances of lack or thoughts of lack, if we accept the limitations of indebtedness, we have put bars across our mind and cannot open up to receive thoughts of healing, empowerment or inspiration. Unbar your mind and your life by forgiving yourself. Let go of the fear surrounding your debt (of whatever nature or form). Let go of worry or anxiety about finances and what you may owe anyone. This does not release you from the obligation(s), but you can part company from any thoughts that may limit you, give you no rest, make you feel inadequate or a failure. As gently and as lovingly as possible, allow any such thoughts to fall away from you. As we release (forgive ourselves), others will release and forgive us. In other words, what we do not hold within ourselves (in mind, in thought), we release from energizing and sending out as a lack in our lives or as images of fear to others. Once accomplished, we claim a new state of inner awareness and unerringly our good will flow toward us.

Claim then - ABUNDANCE - everywhere. Do those things which will aid and support your awareness of the Divine Source - within you. Accept new ideas and try them out. For example, if a new relationship should surface in your life and you have really been looking for such, than allow yourself the pleasure of its gifting and its discovery. Or, if you have been praying for more money and your employer or your boss should offer you additional work, accept it! Weigh the options being made available to you, but be willing to accept the Opportunity.

Claiming abundance is about doing our part - getting right with God - becoming still so we can truly know the Real Source of our great good. Once we discover for ourselves and come to that inner knowing, the realization within that there is only One Presence and One Power in the universe, we succeed in creating or demonstrating our abundant good in all things, in all ways.

I would like to end this brief discussion on abundance by quoting from Charles Fillmore's Prosperity: "There is a universal law of increase. It is not confined to bank accounts but operates on every plane of manifestation. The conscious cooperation of man is necessary to the fullest results in the working of this law. You must use your talent, whatever it may be, in order to increase it. Have faith in the law. Do not reason too much but forge ahead in faith and boldness. If you let yourself think of any person or any outer condition as hindering your increase, this becomes a hindrance to you, for you have applied the law to increase it. Fear of it may cause you to become timid and bury your talent, which defeats the law. Keep your eyes on the abundant inner reality and do not let outer appearance cause you to falter."

Let there be no deterrent to your realization of the One Presence, the One Power in the universe. Let no-thing and no one limit or distract you from your at-one-ment with that Source of all good. You are now, as you read these words, the embodiment of Abundance. I invite you to claim your birthright. Claim your good (God). Claim the reality, the only Reality of your abundance each day in the forever now of your life!

Lonnie Joseph Nichols

SATURDAY, JUNE 5

This experiential workshop will further engage work with the innate healing energy within all of us, and, will explore:

- 1. Accessing the soul energies of healing through the heart, the place where our life force is anchored.
- 2. Incorporating tools provided for the healing of our own energy field, as well as projecting healing for others at a distance.

Elements of intention, the energies of the hands, mind and emotions will be covered. All participants will experience the subtle energy of healing. Working with the hands will be done at a safe distance, with the concept that “energy follows thought”.
