Renewing the Miracle of Christmas

Taken from ‘Thoughts for Transformation’
by LeRoy E. Zemke

“Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. ... Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your father which is in heaven.”

Matthew 5:14,16

Those ancient words of Jesus the Christ ring out anew across the centuries. “Ye are the light of the world ... Let your light so shine ...” What a magnificent promise they carry! What a profound, deeply spiritual truth is revealed to us.

And yet, sometimes amidst all of the holiday festivities related to the celebration of Christmas, there is an eclipse of Jesus’ words. On the one hand, we are led in psalter and song to worship “Christ the New Born King”. On the other hand, somehow we often fail to hear or we forget the message that Christ came to bring. We see the Christ as special and separate, as a Savior and God-incarnate man. Once this view is established in our thinking, we tend to see Christ as outside perhaps in some very special circumstances or conditions such as in meditation, prayer, inspiration state or holy place.

When Jesus (the Christ) said, “Ye are the light of the world ...,” he was talking about the qualities of each person’s inner essence - our radiant, sacred, holy self. Light is a metaphor, a symbol of that which cannot be named. Yet, light is also a quality of energy - energy having many qualities (heat, radiance, density, velocity, cohesion, fusion, etc.). If we “are the light of the world,” metaphorically or symbolically, we, each one of us, carry an imprint of the Divine within us. The light, or the demonstration of life’s impulse as light (or energy) is within us. Again, we “... are the light ...”. We always have the opportunity to express that light or essence wherever or whenever we seek to do so.

Jesus went further to say, “Let your light so shine before men, that may see your good works and glorify your father which is in heaven.” If we are the light, and act upon the light impulse from within (the Divine within), we shall do good works.

Good works flow from those who are open to the Presence of God (the Divine Essence) in their lives. Good works emerge not because we are “earning salvation” or stacking up “good karma.” Good works are not efforts of our ego motivations or causes. Rather, good works are demonstrations of clarity, honesty, integrity, truthfulness, wisdom and vision that emerge from our deepest inner being, born of the desire to know, love and serve God.

If we accept Jesus’ words as the basis for a spiritual truth teaching, how can it affect our lives and the quality of life as we live it? Let us consider ...

1. As much as possible, each of us must be an example of the activity or expression of the inner Presence or light within the context of our own life. We do this in everything we think, do and say. We do this through and by our example in handling relationships, business matters, personal affairs, health issues, and so forth and so on. In other words, we attempt to live from an inner-directed, loving, sacred place and bring forward into our individual lives examples of the highest and best, deepest spiritual teachings that we know and are able to practice.

2. Learn to see all mankind as children of God and expressions of the Divine. This may require a huge shift in thinking because we may not be accustomed to viewing others in this manner. For example, when we see or read about people committing violent acts upon one another, or abusing one another, our tendency may be first to judge them and condemn their actions. For most people, in all probability, it would require a big stretch in their makeup to forgive a robber, a rapist, a murder or assassin. Yet, in every person, no matter how perverted or evil, no matter how deeply buried it may be, still and all a holy seed exists, the light of God is there. The spark of Divinity animates that life as well as our own. We are each called upon to see that light in one another, in all others. We are called upon to know this reality and to affirm it. We must know it and affirm it first for ourselves and be an example of that light and thus illustrate it to others.

Illustrating indicates a better way. It does not rescue or try to save. It reveals, supports and reflects what is known inside.

3. Reject the idea that the Light of Christ or Inner Light is the special domain of one group, one teacher, one church, or is found only in one “special”, concentrated place. The Light is always being born anew, always renewing itself, always unfolding and expressing itself through us and through others. No one has more of it, nor does anyone have less of it. Enlightened teachers have revealed it; lay persons around the world give evidence of it throughout their lives and activities. If Jesus’ teaching is true, “Ye are the light of the world”, that truth applies equally to all people regardless of race, creed or credentials!

The miracle of Christmas is, then, that we are, each one of us renewed again in our hearts, souls and spirits in the light. We are reminded of this anew in the splendor of Handel’s “Messiah”. We are reminded in the whispering winds echoing that first angel choir announcing Jesus’ birth. We are reminded that the Light is born anew and that each of us is the demonstration and the demonstrator!

Yes, we are newly reminded this festive holiday, with all of its tinsel and trimmings and graced with gentleness in children and adults, in friends and stranger alike, that Christ is reborn in our hearts, our lives, our hopes and our dreams.

And if we pause long enough, amidst the busy-ness of our lives and/or the merriment of the season, the warmth of the Christ love will touch our hearts, heal our wounds and allow our Inner Light to Shine forth, to glorify our Father (Source) which is in heaven (within).

(Burlington House)

$35 (pre-registered & pre-paid)

$45 (at the door)

Limited Seating

The word “yoga” means to join. “Tantra” means to weave. Tantra Yoga is a philosophy that weaves all the parts of us into a unified whole. Tantra was developed around 1,000 AD as a compendium of practices rooted in our physical reality.

“Tantra focuses on full-body spirituality and accepting every breath, sensual experience, and emotion as doorways to deep and intimate contact with the energies of life.” (Lorin Roche)

This workshop covers:

- *History and Background
- *Your First Awakening Experience
- *The physical body as Temple of the Divine
- *The “gunas”: aspects of Nature
- *What to do with Desire
- *Goddesses as Spiritual Ideals
- *The “tattvas” (qualities of existence) as a Ladder to Enlightenment
- *The Union of Shiva and Shakti

This workshop combines theory and experiential practice.

There is a small amount of physical movement (optional).

This workshop is suitable for everybody.

Bio: Linn has studied yoga for 40 years and taught for 24 years. She has extensive knowledge of yoga philosophy and has been a faculty member on yoga teacher trainings. As a retired professor, Linn is skilled at synthesizing complex material and presenting it in a compact and engaging form.

Sanctuary

Join us for an afternoon of inspiring information on "Modern Spiritualism and Psychic Research".

We will explore the early days of the metaphysical community here in America, according to the "old school" mediumship/psychic development methods.

We will gain a clearer understanding of the mental and physical methods, as well as, how modern spiritualism has survived and returned, along with various forms of communication and progression.

Travis Kirchhofer, originally a hardcore Evangelical Protestant Christian, has been earnestly investigating /studying Spiritualist/ Psychic Research for about 7 years. During this time, Travis encountered psychic phenomena that were occurring during circle meetings (séances) when well developed wizards (mediums) were present. During the last 5 years his research has deepened. Travis has found a wealth of knowledge, long forgotten, in metaphysical literature that dates back to the 1840's here in America and abroad.

Astro – Insights for November and December

by Carol (CJ) Bonni

Overview for November:

The month starts out with a Full Moon Eclipse on November 8, 2022 at 16 degrees Taurus and occurs at 6:02 AM.

It is also Mid-term Election Day. The contested Presidential election of 2020 continues to foment anger, resentment and general discontent. This election will reawaken all the unresolved anger resulting from the 2020 election. The energy surrounding this month's eclipsed Full Moon has the erratic unpredictable Uranus also at 16 degrees of Taurus suggesting that the outcome of this election will be an unwelcome surprise. Meanwhile the Sun is doing a tense balancing act at 16 degrees of Scorpio, flanked by Venus and Mercury. Just like the 2020 election, this election has all the ingredients for shady backroom deals and lots of distrust.

November New Moon on November 23rd at 1 degree and 38 minutes of Sagittarius occurs at 5:57 PM with both Venus and Mercury as close neighbors at 9 and 10 degrees of Sagittarius. This brings a welcome relief from all the deep dark heaviness and chicanery of the Full Moon. The mood of this New Moon is upbeat, optimistic and happy. The next day is Thanksgiving Day and the happy optimistic energy of the day continues, promising a stress-free happy gathering.

Overview for December:

Full Moon in December at 16 degrees of Gemini at 11:08 pm. Moon is doing an energetic happy dance with Mars, where they are joined at the hip, both at 16 degrees of Gemini. Not to be outdone, Sun at 16 degrees of Sagittarius is having his dance with lovely Venus at 27 degrees of Sagittarius. Neptune and Jupiter are still in Pisces, warning us not to be taken in by any possible scam as Neptune in a tight conjunction with Jupiter will make promises too good to be true. They probably aren't true.

December New Moon on December 23rd at 1 degree and 33 minutes of Capricorn and occurs at 5:17 AM.

Venus, Mercury and Pluto form a tight trio in Capricorn at 16, 21, and 27 degrees, respectively. (Keep in mind that Pluto is returning to its Natal position in the USA chart, transforming the way we do business, the way we govern ourselves, the educational system, transportation and more.) This trio does not sing in harmony, rather they are sounding the alarm for us to grow up, and accept our responsibilities. Jupiter and Neptune have parted company with Jupiter moving into the more exciting and more adventurous Aries. Neptune, now on his own, is trying out his magic spells on Mercury and Venus, both in the very practical sign of Capricorn. Who will win this one?

Some words about how you might be affected by these planetary energies:

ARIES: Mars, your ruling planet, is in the happy playful sign of Gemini. Focus on this and November will prove to be a lot better than the overview above suggests. Full Moon on November 7th at 16 degrees Taurus tightly conjoined to Uranus, and reflecting the intense energy of the Sun in Scorpio flanked on either side by Mercury at 15 degrees and Venus at 20 degrees. Whatever it is that Sun in Scorpio wants to keep hidden and under wraps, Moon conjunct Uranus will surely and unexpectedly uncover it. New Moon on November 23rd at 1 degree of Sagittarius brings some levity, a welcome relief from the intensity of Scorpio. December Full Moon finds Mars and the Moon joined at the hip at 16 degrees of Gemini while they wink at the Sun and Venus in Sagittarius. December's New Moon in Capricorn along with 3 other planets in Capricorn (Venus, Mercury and Pluto) adds a steady influence.

TAURUS: Uranus, still in Taurus, promises to add some excitement to your life. Life might seem like a roller coaster ride but its function is to force you out of your comfort zone. Try to enjoy the ride! The Full Moon on November 8th at 16 degrees of Taurus hitches a ride with Uranus also at 16 degrees of Taurus while trying to balance the intense energy of the Sun in Scorpio, flanked by Venus on one side and Mercury on the other. New Moon on November 23rd at 1 degree of Sagittarius, with Venus and Mercury as close neighbors at 9 and 10 degrees of Sagittarius. Life is good, everybody seems ready to party. December Full Moon at 16 degrees of Gemini is now linked up with Mars, also at 16 degrees of Gemini. Meanwhile, the Sun at 16 degrees of Sagittarius is closely connected to Venus in Sagittarius. Looks like this happy foursome is ready to do some dancing. December New Moon on the 23rd at 1 degree of Capricorn, with Venus Mercury and Pluto also in Capricorn are sounding the warning that it is time to get serious about life.

GEMINI: Mars in Gemini is trying to convince Saturn in Aquarius to lighten up and try dancing. If anyone can convince Saturn to try dancing it's you! You truly have the gift of gab with Mars on your side. The second half of November has energy more to your liking than the first half of the month. The New Moon at 1 degree of optimistic playful Sagittarius on the 23rd of November along with Venus and Mercury nearby at 10 and 11 degrees. A very happy start to the Holiday season. The Full Moon on December 7th continues the upbeat optimism with Moon/Mars in Gemini and Sun/Venus in Sagittarius. Let the good times roll! New Moon on December 23rd at 1 degree of Capricorn, along with nearby neighbors, Venus, Mercury and Pluto all in Capricorn. Capricorn's message is to proceed with caution. Be aware of your surroundings. But don't forget to have fun this holiday season, "'tis the season to be jolly!" after all.

CANCER: Although the first half of November is chaotic, the second half holds promises of brighter skies, with Pallas-Athena, the Goddess of Wisdom in Cancer, whispering in your ear: you can do it! Full Moon on December 7th at 16 degrees Sagittarius shows that you are likely to be feeling generous and willing to spend freely as the shopping season is in full swing now. New Moon for December on the 23rd has 5 planets in Capricorn: Sun and Moon, Venus, Mercury and Pluto. Capricorn urges caution and practicality. Slow down, you'll get to wherever you are going. Reflect on the fable of the turtle and the hare.

LEO: Under the Full Moon/Eclipse the first half of November with all its raw emotions, there is only one planet in fire, an element that is much more to your liking. That planet is Kyron, the planet of healing, in Aries. Hold that healing thought. The second half of the month is much better, with 5 planets in fire signs: Sun, Moon, Venus and Mercury, all in optimistic Sagittarius, and the aforementioned Kyron in Aries. Unleash your creative juices. December Full Moon on the 7th at 16 Gemini shows the Moon fully enveloping amorous Mars. Sun at 16 Sagittarius along with Venus at 27 Sagittarius asks “why not?” Enjoy the fun presented at the Full Moon, because at the New Moon on the 23rd at 1 degree of Capricorn the feeling is more somber and cautious, and poor Mars, now all alone in Gemini, has lost his playmate.

VIRGO: Late November has a very dynamic T-square aspect with Virgo in a starring role! The Asteroid Ceres in Virgo is balancing Neptune and Jupiter in Pisces, while Mars in Gemini is providing the impetus to act. All the players are in position and the play is about to begin! The Full Moon in December is so full of happy playful energy, that play you are about to direct just might be a romantic comedy. Have fun while you can because when the New Moon occurs on the 23rd in Capricorn, along with Venus, Mercury and Pluto the play might look more like a serious Greek drama.

LIBRA: Full Moon/Eclipse on November 8 is a stress-filled day. It will take all your balancing talent to get you through. New Moon in November has Sun, Moon, Venus and Mercury all in Sagittarius, a fire sign. All these energies are harmonious with Libra. Saturn and Mars are both in Air signs, also harmonious with Libra. Because Thanksgiving Day is the day after the New Moon, your celebrations with family and/or friends should be very pleasant and rewarding. December Full Moon has the Moon in a tight partnership with Mars in Gemini, very favorable for Libra. The Sun and Venus in Sagittarius shine their happy warm rays on the Moon/Mars partnership. All very favorable for Libra. Step confidently into the Holiday Season. December New Moon on the 23rd brings you down to earth with 5 planets (Sun, Moon, Venus, Mercury and Pluto) in the very practical cautious sign of Capricorn. Libra feels uneasy around the no-nonsense sign of Capricorn. But Libra is known for its charm. Will it work on stern Capricorn?

SCORPIO: November Full Moon Eclipse has you in the spotlight. The Scorpio Sun is flanked by Venus on one side and Mercury on the other side. Mercury in Scorpio will find humor in the darkest circumstances. Venus there will draw in like minded friends. Moon in Taurus is in a tight partnership with Uranus, keeping things uncertain, unpredictable. The mood lightens up a lot at the New Moon on the 23rd as Sagittarius takes center stage. Sun, Moon, Venus and Mercury are all spreading happiness and good feelings. These good feelings remain for the next few days. The mood on Thanksgiving Day will be convivial. December Full Moon on the 7th in Gemini with Mars sharing the playfulness of the Gemini Full Moon as they are inseparable. Everybody wants to play! Things get serious when The New Moon occurs in no-nonsense Capricorn on December 23rd as 5 planets line up in Capricorn, leaving Mars all alone, still happy and looking for fun and adventure.

SAGITTARIUS: The Full Moon/Eclipse on November 8th at 16 degrees of Taurus in a close tight conjunction with Uranus also at 16 degrees of Taurus, all of this reflecting the light of the Sun in Scorpio along with Mercury and Venus all clustered together, shining their collective light. The New Moon on the 23rd in Sagittarius has you feeling renewed, energized and ready for adventure. December Full Moon on the 7th at 16 Gemini with Mars tightly joined to the Moon whispering words of encouragement to express your true feelings. Sun in Sagittarius with Venus very close at 27 Sagittarius at this Full Moon is soaking up all the encouragement from the Moon/Mars combination and ready for a new romance. New Moon on the 23rd occurs at 1 degree of Capricorn along with Venus, Mercury and Pluto. Now is the time for you to invite those Saturnine twins, Patience and Prudence to your party.

AQUARIUS: November Full Moon/Eclipse on the 8th at 16 Taurus, in a very tight conjunction with Uranus, your ruling planet. Fasten your seatbelt; there will be some turbulence ahead. The Sun has allies as Venus and Mercury line up on either side of the Sun. Sun in Scorpio wants to hide from this Full Moon; its wish is granted by the Eclipse. November New Moon on the 23rd at 1 degree of Sagittarius. You have successfully navigated the turbulence! New Moon is joined by Venus and Mercury who are now more closely aligned with the Moon. Now you are ready for some happy thoughts provided by upbeat fire sign Sagittarius. Sagittarius message is “Be of good heart, the dark clouds are lifting and all good things are coming your way.” December Full Moon on the 7th at 16 Gemini, locked in a tight embrace with Mars, also at 16 Gemini. The Sun is at 16 Sagittarius with Venus nearby. The good feelings generated by last month’s voyage into Sagittarius continue this month. Here we have the Venus/Mars axis opposite the Sun/Venus. I think this happy foursome is ready for some happy high energy dancing! Next act is the New Moon on December 23rd at 1 degree Capricorn, along with 3 other planets in Capricorn. It’s not that Capricorn frowns on dancing. Oh no, far from it. Its message is to learn the steps well, so that you don’t trip. Capricorn is all about caution.

PISCES: November Full Moon Eclipse on November 8 at 16 Taurus is hand-in-glove with Uranus, bringing surprises and instability. The Sun at 16 Scorpio flanked by Mercury and Venus, wants to hide from the light of this Full Moon. The Eclipse provides that by hiding the Moon’s light. Providing further relief from all this stress, Neptune, your ruling planet is dancing the tango with Jupiter in Pisces, and they are inviting the Sun, Venus and Mercury to join them in this romantic escape from stress. New Moon occurs on November 23rd at 1 degree Sagittarius, with both Venus and Mercury nearby at 9 and 10 degrees of Sagittarius. No longer interested in the escape provided by Neptune and Jupiter, you are now more interested in the thrill of taking chances through new adventures and exploring new paths of discovery. December Full Moon on December 7 at 16 Gemini fully embracing Mars also at 16 Gemini. Sun at 16 Sagittarius with Venus nearby at 27 degrees of Sagittarius. Here they are doing the dance of love and romance, repeating the theme described at the November New Moon. You are feeling lucky, invincible. December New Moon on the 23rd at 1 degree of Capricorn, along with Venus, Mercury and Pluto all in Capricorn. Capricorn has this message for you: Time to pay the piper for the dance party. And don’t forget to tip the DJ.
