Astro Insights by Carol (CJ) Bonni

The focus for this column is on the November and December New Moons, Full Moons and Eclipses. Now that Halloween is over, and Daylight Savings Time ends on November 7, Retrograde Mercury ended mid-October and the Holiday Season officially begins! And it looks like it's going to be an exciting season, with 2 eclipses occurring within 2 weeks of each other. The first eclipse occurs on the Full Moon of November 19 at 27 degrees of Taurus. The second one, 2 weeks later on the New Moon on December 4 at 12 degrees of Sagittarius.

November's New Moon occurs on November 4 at 12 degrees of Scorpio. A New Moon is always a good time to go within and get in touch with your Higher Self. And when a New Moon occurs in the deeply introspective sign of Scorpio, there is a heightened sense of wanting to get away from the hustle and bustle and get quiet. When the Sun is in the sign of Scorpio, the energy always promotes the possibility for renewal, regeneration and healing. Mars in close conjunction to the New Moon acts as the gatekeeper and adds a layer of self-protection. Mercury, the planet of communication, is in Libra where it can function as the mediator. In spite of the Scorpio energy urging all of us to withdraw and be quiet, Mercury in Libra is anything but quiet and introspective. So when you come out of your deep meditation, be prepared for many conversations with sparkly Mercury in Libra encouraging lots of social interaction. Venus is in Sagittarius helping to lighten up any leftover heaviness which might have come up while we were in deep meditation.

The Full Moon on November 19 at 27 degrees of Taurus, and the Sun at 27 degrees of Scorpio. The Full Moon is a time for bringing projects to a conclusion. This one however has the light of the full moon partially obscured by the shadow of the earth. This is a Lunar Eclipse. This suggests that we cannot quite see anything in its entirety, making any kind of decision about bringing projects to a successful conclusion a bit iffy. We just cannot see the whole picture. Mercury and Mars are also in Scorpio, very close to the Sun, enhancing all the Scorpio qualities, such as the ability to see clearly the hidden motivations of others. Keep in mind that the eclipse is going to distort your perceptions and cloud your judgment. Because this eclipse occurs in the sign of Taurus, anything that has to do with money is affected by the eclipse. For example, banking, real estate, the stock market etc. Put off making any kind of major life changes until after the energy of this eclipse dissipates.

New Moon for December occurs on December 4 at 12 degrees of Sagittarius. This is also an eclipse, the last one of the year. This is a Solar Eclipse which occurs when the Moon is between the Sun and the Earth. The Moon will pass in front of the Sun and partially obscure the Sun's light, however because this is a partial eclipse you probably won't notice any difference in the Sun's ability to shine its Light. The effect is on an emotional/spiritual level rather than physical.

The Sun, Moon and Mercury are all bunched together with the Sun and Moon at 12 degrees of Sagittarius and Mercury at 15 degrees of Sagittarius. This is such a happy cheerful optimistic sign that it is difficult to imagine anything unpleasant happening under an eclipse in this sign. Nevertheless, there is always the possibility when the Moon "steals" some of the Sun's light, that there will be unpleasant repercussions. The people who come under the rulership of Sagittarius include but are not limited to: religious figures, judges, college professors, athletes and comedians. Expect to see some changes happening to someone involved in any of these fields.

How will this affect all the rest of us? The travel industry also comes under the rulership of Sagittarius. If you have plans to travel to foreign lands, you may have to change your agenda. The shipping industry is also under the rulership of Sagittarius. If you have ordered anything on line, but most especially books, you may have to wait a longer than normal time for delivery.

Got tickets for a football game, or a hockey game or any sport? Plan on getting there early because there might be some confusion about the tickets, or the seats, or maybe just a change of players. And finally, the Full Moon in December is straightforward, clear and without any eclipse energy.

December Full Moon occurs December 21 at 11:36 PM at 27 degrees Gemini; Sun at 27 degrees Sagittarius. Sun and Mars both in Sagittarius, everyone is feeling gregarious, cheerful and generous. Just in time for last minute Christmas shopping. Now we can finally bring all those projects that we had to postpone earlier to a happy conclusion. Mercury and Venus both in Capricorn giving us a sense of security and safety. And all is well.

* * * * *

Here's your SunSign forecast for November and December

Scorpio: While in deep meditation during the eclipses, tap into the Universal Source of Love, Light and Healing and know that it is all around you. December is full of blessings for you.

Sagittarius: November's eclipse occurs in your house of hidden energies. Look for and thank the Angels who stay in the background and watch over you. Even the eclipse can't hold you down. Your energy just bubbles over and touches everything.

Capricorn: November New Moon brings out your highest and best. Your leadership qualities inspire everyone you meet. The November Full Moon gives you time to make some long term plans. Venus in your sign at this Full Moon adds a touch of charm and grace. December New Moon encourages you to re-examine your recent past experiences in a new light. December Full Moon brings some clarity and balance for you.

Aquarius: November New Moon has falls in the house of public recognition. You have the power to transform how the public perceives you. November Full Moon occurs in your house of The Other. You will see yourself reflected in the eyes of everyone you see. December New Moon urges you to seek out new groups, new friends and maybe more community involvement. December Full Moon has you finding solace in the familiar surroundings of home and family. Christmas holds a special meaning for you this year.

Pisces: New Moon in November is urging you to accept your role as a Wisdom Teacher. Your sensitive empathetic nature is well suited for doing this. Full Moon energy in November says put some of your energy into honing communication skills. New Moon in December says even wisdom teachers should be willing to take a break from all that serious study of wisdom teachings, and have some good natured fun. December Full Moon shines the spotlight on building a good foundation in preparation for your mission.

Aries: November New Moon concentrates energy in your house of transformation. Mars (your ruling planet) sends its blessing to you in the form of the Scorpio grouping in that house of transformation giving you the strength to do what is needed to be done by you. November Full Moon continues the same theme of transformation and the practical use of assets. December New Moon awakens your sense of adventure and competition. It's not about winning so much as it is about the adventure of competition. December Full Moon has you counting your blessings and encouraging you to share your strength with those who look to you for leadership.

Taurus: November New Moon occurs in your house of partnerships, all kinds of partnerships. Everywhere you look you see a reflection of yourself. November Full Moon continues the Scorpio theme of transformation and healing as it applies to your sense of self. December New Moon focuses on your role as steward of shared resources. December Full Moon continues the theme of shared resources and how you feel about others' assets. You are a role model for everyone on the path.

Gemini: Your restless nature thrives on variety and versatility. So as the energies of the Scorpio New Moon in November are encouraging you to get quiet, get still and go within, you are likely to be a little reluctant to sit still that long. But this theme of going within and seeking guidance is prominent all through November and December. So try to find a way to get comfortable with it. The New Moon in November is in your house of service to others. You may be guided to find new ways to provide service to others in a way that transforms your life and theirs too. Full Moon in November is your house of hidden assistance and the Sun is still in the house of service to others. December New Moon brings a new awareness of the concept of seeing truth in the reflection of The Other. Whatever you see is a reflection of what you believe. Bless everyone and everything. December Full Moon occurs on the Gemini/Sagittarius axis. Here the full moon is shining its clear uninterrupted light on you. You are a shining star!

Cancer: Scorpio New Moon in November falls in your house of self image. There is the potential for transforming your self image. Full Moon in November falls in your house of long term planning and maintaining friendships. December New Moon occurs in the house of service to others. This is the last eclipse of the year so the warnings given at the beginning of this column about avoiding starting new projects under an eclipse apply here. December Full Moon focuses attention on hidden assets and service to others.

Leo: November New Moon falls in your house of home and family. Any new project begun under this new moon will center on the safety and security issues in the home. November Full Moon occurs in your house of building alliances, maintaining friendships and long term planning. December New Moon and last eclipse of the year finally leaves the sign of Scorpio and slides ever so gently into the sign of Sagittarius. This is Leo's happy place. Here is where you can transform your self image and reinvent yourself.

Virgo: November New Moon highlights the house of communication and sales. Because this isn't under an eclipse, it is safe to start a new project or course of study. November Full Moon now under the influence of the eclipse happens in the house of long distance travel. Refer to the comments made at the beginning of this column regarding long distance travel under an eclipsed moon. You are allowed to dream of faraway places even if traveling to those places may be put on hold. December New Moon in Sagittarius and the last eclipse of the year occurs in your house of home and family. You may want to transform the appearance of your home at this New Moon. December Full Moon occurs in your house of public recognition. Here is where you get acknowledged for your Virgo talents and accomplishments. Shine on Virgo!

Libra: November New Moon in Scorpio falls in your house of shared assets. No eclipse energy at the time of this new moon so you are cleared to begin a new project. November Full Moon in Taurus and an eclipse also falls in the house of shared assets. The eclipsed Moon suggests that the new project be put on hold. The Sun in Scorpio is in the house of your personal assets, your money house. You can transform your beliefs about money. December New Moon and the last eclipse of the year focuses attention on siblings, advertising, communication and devices related to communication. Because the Sun is eclipsed by the Moon, emotions take the front seat. December Full Moon is shining bright with no blockages in your house of higher education, teaching and long distance travel.

And now we can all let out a huge sigh of relief!
